

REPLY OF CARRANZA WILL BE SATISFACTORY TO U.S.

Such is Forecast Indicated By Statement Made By General
Carranza to Silliman.

U. S. FLEET CONTINUES TO ASSEMBLE TO BE READY FOR WHAT MAY RESULT

Note Not An Ultimatum, Says Wilson,
"Because The Administration Expresses Views and Then Acts Accordingly"—Believes Carranza Will Protect Foreigners.

Associated Press.
Washington, Mar. 9.—General Carranza has made preliminary reply to the American representations, denying generally the existence of conditions in Mexico City which the United States has called upon him to improve.

In a statement made orally to American Consul Silliman at Veracruz, which was laid before President Wilson and the cabinet today,
the Mexican chief denied that General Obregon, his commander in Mexico City, had prevented food from reaching the Mexican capital, or that he had sent supplies away.

Carranza's oral statement was in official quarters to foreclose the tenor of his formal answer, now being drafted. Generally, it was regarded in American quarters as favorable, and as an indication that Carranza would no longer approve any inconvenience to foreigners.

Associated Press.
Washington, March 9.—While awaiting a reply to the representations to General Carranza to take steps to improve conditions in Mexico City, the Administration today is taking steps to carry out what most of the foreign diplomatic corps interprets as an entire change of attitude toward the whole Mexican situation.

Rear Admiral Fletcher, commanding the Atlantic fleet at Guantanamo, is ordered to send two battleships to Vera Cruz to strengthen the fleet already there, or gathering from nearby ports.

The Admiral himself, who commanded the forces which took the town from Huerta last April, will not go, but he was instructed to send a flag officer to take command. Admiral Fletcher will select the ships he will send and report later to the Navy Department.

President Wilson, describing the latest American representations today, said Carranza had been called upon by the United States to take the necessary steps to protect foreigners in Mexico City, and had been informed of what the Washington government had heard of conditions there and how serious they seemed to be.

When asked whether the United States had any new intentions "in Mexico, the President reiterated that the government had presented its views on what appeared to be the situation in Mexico City. He added that in all such situations it was necessary to discount reports a good deal, because, he said, certain persons would like to have the United States intervene in Mexico, even if they had to manufacture the facts on which to base the intervention.

Speaking of conditions in the Mexican capital President Wilson referred to the fear of outrages there as being more pressing at present than any thing that had already occurred.
The fear was, he said, that the city would be evacuated and left without protection.

Washington, March 9.—Admiral
Fletcher selected the armored cruiser Washington, now in Haitian waters, with Rear Admiral Caperton, and the battleship Georgia, commanded by Captain Robert R. Coontz, now at Guantanamo, to proceed to Vera Cruz.

Both ships, starting today, should be at Vera Cruz Thursday night.

IMPRESSIONS OF FEET OFFERED IN MURDER CASE

By Associated Press.
Bridgeport, Conn., March 9.—Impressions of both feet of Mrs. Helen M. Angle, taken on July 11, 1914, at police headquarters in Stamford, were put in as evidence today by the state, which is trying her for manslaughter in connection with the death of Waldo R. Ballou.

It is the intention of the prosecution, according to the state's attorney, to show that the bloody barefoot prints found in the lower hallway and in Mrs. Angle's rooms on the third floor, correspond with the impression of the defendant's feet, and that the bloody footprints were made by Mrs. Angle.

PROSECUTION OUTLINES BIG INDIANA CASE

By Associated Press.
Indianapolis, March 9.—United States District Attorney Frank C.
Dailey made his opening statement
today at the trial of Mayor Donn M.
Roberts of Terre Haute and the twenty-seven other defendants who are charged with conspiracy to corrupt the election of November 3, 1914, in Terre Haute.

He told how the government contends the false registrations were made, and of the alleged slugging at the polls, and of the manner of collecting the amount of the so-called "slush fund."

About two thousand false registrations were prepared at Terre Haute police headquarters by Chief of Police Edward Holler, who pleaded guilty at the direction of Roberts, Mr.
Dailey told the jury. About 3,000 false registrations were made in Terre Haute, Mr. Dailey declared.

TAX EXEMPTION JOINT RESOLUTION REPORTED OUT

By Associated Press.
Columbus, March 9.—The House Committee on Constitutional Amendments today decided to report out, without recommendation, the Purdum joint resolution providing for submission to the voters next fall of an amendment to the constitution of public bonds from taxation.

It was said a fight will be made on the floor of the House to make the exemption apply only to bonds bearing four per cent interest, or less, the purpose being to force down interest rates.

ENGLAND AND FRANCE CALL WARSHIPS FROM ALL OVER WORLD TO BATTER DARDANELLES

Slowly But Surely Great Fleet Is Cutting Way Toward Constantinople—German Press Says Straits Are Impregnable—Crisis at Hand in Bulgaria—Germans Falling Back Toward Own Frontier in East.

By Associated Press.

Paris, March 9.—Dispatches mention several warships not named before as members of the allied fleet, which is attacking the Dardanelles.
As the strength of the British North Sea fleet apparently has not been weakened, the inference is drawn that Great Britain and France are using for this service vessels from the far corners of the world, the tying up of German shipping and the destruction of German warships on the high seas having made this possible.

By Associated Press.

Paris, March 9.—Bulgaria, considered the least likely of any of the Balkan nations now at peace to join the allies, is confronting an international crisis over the question of peace or war.

London, March 9.—Obstinate fighting marks the battle along the eastern front on the continent, with the Germans slowly withdrawing from the river Niemen in the direction of their own East Prussian frontier.

At the same time the new offensive against Warsaw on the Pilica evidently has not as yet developed, the great engagement which has been expected in this locality.

In the western arena of hostilities the only new feature lately has been the allied air attack on Ostend.
In the Champagne region, where the French have assumed the offensive lately, a snowstorm has given a forced rest to the troops. It is not unwelcome, for they have been almost constantly engaged for the past fortnight.

Judging from the statement made yesterday by the British Admiralty, it is apparent that only one merchantman has fallen a victim to the submarine blockade of the Germans, since the 25th of February.

The first hint of British retaliation against the personnel of German submarine raiders has been conveyed in an official statement that the officers and crew of the German under-sea boat U-8, which fell a prey to a flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers detailed to hunt for submarines, will be denied the usual privileges of prisoners of war.

Press comment appearing in Berlin indicates a feeling of optimism over the near eastern situation. The Turkish opinions that the Dardanelles are impregnable is being indured and papers express the belief that King Constantine will hold Greece to a course of neutrality.

The Central News correspondent at Amsterdam telegraphs that 14 men were killed and 70 injured today by an explosion in a German arsenal at Antwerp.

CONSTANTINOPLE, OBJECTIVE OF ALLIES.

THAW ONCE IN FULL

By Associated Press.
New York, March 9.—The actual trial of Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, and five co-defendants or conspiring to effect Thaw's escape from the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Matteawan, was begun in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court here today.

Deputy Attorney General Frank Kennedy outlined the case of the state, and several witnesses, who gave testimony of a technical nature, were placed upon the stand to testify.

Mr. Kennedy said it was the contention of the state that Thaw was insane at the time of his flight, that it would still constitute a menace to the public safety to allow him at large, but that, notwithstanding these facts, he was, by reason of his "peculiar form of insanity," competent to conspire to defeat the administration of justice.

It was announced today by an official of the District Attorney's office that in all probability Evelyn Nesbit Thaw would appear as a witness in Thaw's behalf.

ple of Cuyahoga county today opposed in the Senate confirmation of D. S. Creamer, as a member of the Board of Administration.

In opposing the confirmation Senator Hopple said that Creamer's appointment was reward for his treach-ery to his party. He also said that it was treachery on the part of Governor Willis in nominating Creamer for the position.

Creamer's nomination was confirmed, though by a strictly party vote.

TO CUT FEES

By Associated Press.
Columbus, March 9.—Senator Moore of Jefferson said today he has prepared a bill providing that oil inspection fees shall be reduced from 7 to 3 cents a barrel on oil.

EARLY PLOWING STILL CONTINUES

With each day favorable to spring plowing, Fayette farmers are busy with the work of breaking ground ready for the spring seeding, and the plowing, which opened some three weeks ago, continues without cessation.

Farmers argue that not only does the winter plowing leave the ground in better condition, but also affords an opportunity of ridding the soil of harmful insects and weed seed, besides placing the farmer in a position to handle a larger acreage.

A large acreage will be sown to oats this spring, and the acreage of corn, wheat and oats is expected to set a new record in Fayette county.

REVISES RURAL SCHOOL CODE

Head of House School Committee Introduces Bill

RADICAL CHANGES SOUGHT

New Boxing Measure Launched in the House Empowers Sheriffs and Mayors to Appoint Local Boxing Commissioners — Effort Made to Strengthen the Movie Censor Act. Doings of the Solons.

Columbus, March 9.—Chairman Plumb of the house schools committee introduced a bill revising the rural school code.

Under the terms of the Plumb measure the present system of electing county school boards would be abolished and these boards would be elected next November at large by the voters. The abolished county examiner boards are restored; the probate judge and county superintendent are to appoint two examiners. There is return to the old plan of distributing state school funds on the basis of the enumeration of youth of school age. The minimum supervisory district is made one of forty teachers instead of twenty. This change is advocated by supporters of the present code, as a means of reducing the number of district supervisors. The bill also limits the number of district supervisors to four in the county. Village districts, having a first or second grade high school, may exempt themselves from county supervision and may appoint a superintendent, who is to give one-fifth of his time to supervision.

A school bill by Garver of Holmes reduces the minimum school year in rural districts from 32 to 28 weeks and permits pupil to be excused from attending more than 20 weeks.

Attack on the state boxing commission bill, which is on the house calendar, was made by the introduction by Thompson of Franklin of a bill empowering sheriffs and mayors, on application by an athletic club or public gymnasium, to appoint two local boxing commissioners, empowered to grant or refuse permits for boxing exhibitions.

To punish the film exchange or agency and not merely the exhibitor, as the present law does, when the orders of the state board of censors of moving pictures are not complied Figures announced by the canvassing board are 118 for, 14,820 against.

M'ADOO ON PURPOSE OF SHIP MEASURE

Secretary Denies Charge Made By Senator Lodge.

Washington, March 9.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo issued a statement denying unequivocally the charge made by Senator Lodge that the administration originally had intended to purchase interned German ships should the ship purchase bill have become a law. Referring to the Lodge statement, Mr. McAdoo said: "The shipping bill never did have in view the purchase of the interned German ships or any specific ships." The statement then launched off into a rather sharply worded attack on Senators Lodge and Root for their alleged inconsistency in voting against the ship bill out of fear that the president would purchase belligerent ships, whereas, he points out, they had voted for the amendment to the ship registry laws permitting the purchase of belligerent ships by American ship owners. Mr. McAdoo asserts that the only reason why the president refused to accept an amendment of the ship bill prohibiting the purchase of interned ships was that such a provision would have meant "the surrender of a vital American right."

"The purpose of the bill," says the statement, "was to give the government authority to buy or build any kind of suitable ships for the purposes of American trade and commerce. Had the bill passed, American shipyards would have received orders promptly for cargo ships aggregating 300,000 to 400,000 tons dead weight, thereby giving employment to labor, stimulating manufacturing industries and providing vessels for our foreign trade."

A message was received from General Villa, dated Leon. This town is in Jalisco. This is the farthest south Villa has been since he evacuated Mexico City, and it is believed on the border that he is going south to drive the Carranzistas out of the capital.

NEW CABINET IN THE MAKING

London, March 9.—Dispatches from Rome, Athens and Balkan cities depict the situation in Greece as of increasing seriousness. The disagreement between King Constantine and the former premier, M. Venzelos, both popular idols, has stirred up most intense feeling, and at the present moment the outcome can not be predicted with certainty. Apparently King Constantine is determined to keep Greece neutral, while Venzelos and his following, having openly declared in favor of intervention on the side of the allies, are bending every effort to bring about their purposes. M. Zaimis, who had been asked to form a new cabinet with a policy of neutrality, is reported to have declined the task.

OPERATIONS IN FRANCE

Paris, March 9.—The latest official communique says: "The enemy attempted to recapture the wood carried by us west of Perthes, but he was repulsed. Our counter offensive enabled us to take ground north and east and take some prisoners. This forward movement was continued and accentuated. In the region of Perthes we gained over 500 meters of trenches. Between Mesnil-les-Hurtus and Beausejour we lost a few meters of trenches which we won Sunday. We gained 100 meters on the crest north-east of Mesnil-les-Hurtus. In the region of St. Mihiel, in Bois Brule and the forest of Apremont we gained a footing in one of the enemy's trenches and found much material. In the wood of Lepetree, to the northwest of Pont-a-Mousson, the Germans attempted an attack, which failed."

IMPORTANT RULING IN THE RAILROAD CASES

Rate Laws In Two States Annulled By Supreme Court.

Washington, March 9.—The United States supreme court laid down the principle that it is beyond the power of the states to require a railroad to carry one commodity or class of traffic at a loss or nominal profit, even though an adequate profit is obtained from its business as a whole within the state.

Under this principle the court annulled the North Dakota lignite coal rate law as to the Northern Pacific and the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railroads, and the West Virginia 2 cent passenger rate law, as to the Norfolk and Western. Justice Hughes announced the decisions. Justice Pitney alone dissented. In arriving at its general conclusion the court held that when a state selects one commodity or class of traffic for regulation, it must apportion to it a proper part of all general expenses and then allow substantial compensation.

The court left undetermined the exact elements to be considered in fixing a value for railroad property for ratemaking purposes, accepting the findings of the states in each case as showing substantial compensation had not been allowed for the service embraced within their laws.

The Mayoralty Campaigns

The people are scarcely well through with one political campaign and all its attendant bitterness, turmoil and strife until another one appears on the horizon in all its formidable proportions as a trouble producer.

Following the close of the campaign last fall the people felt that a respite of some appreciable duration would follow—they knew a respite was due them.

Not long, however, after the people had settled themselves to enjoy the calm that they deluded themselves into believing would follow the storm they were made to realize that another campaign was approaching—the campaigns which must precede the election of Mayors and the full corps of city officials in each municipality in the state.

If there is one political campaign more disturbing in its effect on the particular community involved, one political campaign more bitter than another it is the campaign which goes before an election at which a chief executive officer of the city is chosen.

All the local affairs are involved in such a campaign. It is purely and intensely local and, unfortunately, it is more bitter than any other.

While the area involved in each campaign is, of course, comparatively small, yet for that reason it takes on, usually, the elements of a petty and a personal fight so distasteful and so harmful to business and social affairs.

Washington, like every other city in the state, is approaching a mayoralty fight right now.

True the election does not occur until November next, but the primary election at which party nominations are made must precede the election campaign and the campaign for the nominations must precede the primary election.

Even now though it is eight months until the election occurs, candidates are already beginning to feel the public pulse and line up their followers.

Many men have been "mentioned" as candidates for Mayor, some good, some wholly unworthy and some only moderately well qualified for the position.

It seems that these constantly recurring elections and preliminary political campaigns are a necessary annoyance in this kind of a country and that being true, candidates and party leaders should have enough consideration for the feeling of the people to make them as little unpleasant as possible.

Certainly Washington has reached the stage where candidates and leaders who indulge in abuse and vilification of opponents will not be tolerated. It is the hope of Washington people that in the forthcoming Mayoralty campaigns this year a repetition of some of the disgraceful affairs of the past will not be attempted.

What a splendid thing it would be if we could have a real good clean campaign this summer and fall. If we could then these dreaded Mayoralty campaigns would lose the greater portion of their terrors.

Happiness of Married Life Depends Upon the Wife

Woman's Absence From Councils of State Keeps War Alive

By Rabbi STEPHEN S. WISE, New York

ONE of the chief perils of our modern society is what I call the private divorce—the divorce that is unrecorded in any human court, but that exists today in thousands of American families. It is the more or less silent estrangement between husband and wife, the disintegration of love, friendship or even trust between them. And I do feel that the red signal of danger should be shown to the young wife. IN MOST INSTANCES THE HAPPINESS OF HER MARRIED LIFE DEPENDS UPON HER.

Let the wife think of her husband's happiness rather than of what the neighbors say. No man restrains himself or conquers temptation through fear of his wife, but through love of her.

IF A WOMAN SHOWS HER TRUST IN THE MAN SHE MARRIES THE PRINCIPLE OF "NO-BLESSE OBLIGE" WILL FORCE HIM TO RESPOND.

WAR cannot cease until the power of any man or group of men to make or unmake war has ceased. WHEN DEMOCRACY COMES TO ITS OWN THE VICARIOUS DAMNATION, WHICH IS WAR IN AUTOCRATIC EMPIRES, WILL CEASE.

A substitute for war must be found and can be found, some outlet for the passion of men to serve and strive together.

I hold that the absence of women from the councils of state is partially, if not largely, responsible for the continuance of the plague of war upon earth.

IS IT LESS THAN INCREDIBLE THAT EIGHT OR NINE NATIONS ARE ENGAGED IN THE GREATEST WAR THAT THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN AND NOT A WOMAN IN ALL THESE LANDS HAS BEEN CONSULTED AS TO WHETHER WAR OR PEACE SHOULD BE?

Poetry For Today

THE BREAD LINE.

The country lanes are filled with snow, the friendly stars are shining.
The evergreens are straight and stiff against the evening skies; And many wander in the night, whose lonely hearts are pining.
For country homes, and country scenes, and smiling tender eyes.

The city streets are filled with slush, the city crowds are thronging, And some there are with mournful souls, and some are overjoyed; And some there are without a friend, for warmth and clothing longing;
The mighty, ragged army of the city's unemployed.

The Bread Line! In the dead of night with feet and fingers aching, Alone and friendless in a world of sorrow and of pain,
They stand and wait for food to eat; but mother-hearts are breaking, And mother-prayers are asking that their boys come home again.

Hens Have a Sense of Humor, and They Should Be Amused.

An eastern psychologist who devotes a good deal of time to practical applications of his theories declares that hens have a sense of humor. He says they would lay more regularly if properly amused.

Unfortunately he fails to suggest the forms of amusement that hens could be expected to appreciate. Of course roller skates are out of the question, and so are Teddy bears and paper dolls. A hen might learn to play hopscotch and tag and blind man's buff, but that would be about the limit. Of course the comic supplements could be hung around the coop and the "Lays of Ancient Rome," and other entertaining pabulum might be mixed in with the daily pan of mash.

But it's all experimental. Hens are so different. There have been hen owners whose whisks alone were funny enough to prompt a hen to crawl into the hay mow and lay a hatful of eggs. Yet they never do.

That's the great trouble with psychologists. They start something and leave you to finish it.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GREENFIELD MARSHAL NABS ANOTHER ROBBER

FRANKFORT POSTOFFICE, TWO STORES AND C. H. & D. TICKET OFFICE ROBBED BY DARING YEGGS SOMETIME LAST NIGHT.

MAN SUSPECTED OF NEW HOLLAND JOB ARRESTED

HARRY KING, ONE OF TWO MEN RELEASED FOR PREVIOUS SAFE CRACKING JOB, FALLS INTO HANDS OF MARSHAL AT GREENFIELD, AND PART OF LOOT IS FOUND UPON HIM.

Out of the frying pan into the fire! This is just what happened to Harry King, one of the five men suspected of cracking the New Holland post-office safe a few weeks ago.

King's love for perfect finger nails apparently has led to his undoing, for Marshal George Willis again arrested King at Greenfield Tuesday morning about ten o'clock, and King had upon him, together with other articles, a manicuring set stolen from the Frankfort postoffice Monday night.

So it is that once more Marshal Willis had added another plume to his hat; another criminal to the captured list, and paved the way for another $200 reward offered for the arrest of postoffice burglars.

The postoffice, two stores and the C. H. & D. depot in Frankfort were burglarized sometime Monday night, and late Tuesday morning Harry King was arrested in Greenfield as above stated, and it is claimed that he was "caught with the goods" by the wide-awake Marshal Willis, whose previous captures have won him more than local fame.

The postoffice at Frankfort was entered by removing a glass in a rear door, and once inside the place the burglars rifled all of the mail, obtained 25 pennies, some $8 to $10 worth of stamps, a manicuring set and other articles. Nearly every letter in the postoffice had been ripped open and lay scattered about the interior of the place.

When Postmaster A. B. Pine reached the office Tuesday morning he made the discovery and immediately communicated with the police of adjoining towns, including Marshal Willis at Greenfield. Postmaster Pine had most of the postoffice receipts and nearly all of the stamps in the safe of the Farmers Bank in Frankfort, and there was no safe for the men to crack. A number of locks had been broken about the office.

The R. B. Claypool dry goods store near by had also been entered, and some shoes and overalls stolen.

At the W. J. Price grocery, a cash register containing 200 pennies was opened and the pennies removed. The ticket office at the C. H. & D. also received attention at the hands of the burglars, with the result that the place was much torn up when the agent reached it Tuesday morning.

When Marshal Willis received the word, he went to work and about ten o'clock Tuesday morning picked up Harry King, and locked him up. A search of the man disclosed the missing manicuring set and other articles, it is claimed, showing that the man was deeply mixed up in the crime.

King, it will be recalled, was one of the five men arrested in connection with the New Holland postoffice robbery. He, with one Adam Smith, were released from custody following the hearing before United States Commissioner L. S. Evans, in Chillicothe. The two men were released because no evidence was advanced to hold them. The three companions of the men, Jas. Howard, Howard Martin and Wm. Huffman, were held to the federal grand jury in the sum of $5,000 each, and are still in the county jail at Chillicothe.

When he learned of the Frankfort job Marshal Willis suspicioned King and Smith, and kept a watch for them. He had little difficulty in landing King, but after locking his man in the calaboose, he set about to arrest Smith if he could be found. So far the other suspect has not been apprehended.

The splendid work of Marshal Willis has won him quite a reputation, with the result that his friends are boasting him for United States Deputy Marshal in this district, and he has a good show for landing the appointment.

The trial of Roy Hudson, charged with bootlegging, was held in Greenfield, Monday, and the defendant was represented by Rankin & Rankin of this city.

WILL NOT FIND MANY IN FAYETTE

The bounty of $1 to be paid by the state for each hawk head will not bring many dollars to Fayette county, it is claimed, owing to the ever decreasing number of chicken hawks in this part of Ohio.

With the disappearance of timber and the incessant war waged on Mr. Hawk, the bird has decreased by thousands in this county during the past decade, with the result that at the present time few hawks are found unless near a large body of timber, and there are few large bodies of timber left intact in Fayette county.

A score of years ago, when the county contained several thousand acres more timber land than now, it was almost impossible for the farmer residing close to the timber to successfully engage in poultry raising owing to the oft repeated visits of the greedy hawks.

The corps of teachers are: Dr. P. J. Hennessy, D. L. Thompson, C. A. Reid, A. F. Hopkins, H. D. Chaffin. The class meets each Sunday morning in the basement at the Presbyterian church.

EMBARGO LIFTED OVER IN GREENE

After a conference with the Agricultural Commission, Monday, Prosecutor Johnson announced that the embargo on Greene county had been lifted.

However it is claimed that the federal authorities and not the state board, has jurisdiction in Greene county, and some are predicting that the embargo on live stock shipments has not been lifted to any degree.

VOTES $50 FOR WELFARE WORK

D. A. R. TO AID COMMENDABLE WORK NOW UNDER WAY IN THIS CITY — SPLENDID LECTURE DELIVERED BEFORE D. A. R. BY DR. R. M. HUGHEY AT SESSION LAST NIGHT.

Each month's D. A. R. hostesses vie with each other in presenting programs of entertainment out of the ordinary and each one of the season has been most enjoyable.

But the March hostesses are entitled to encomiums for the very successful meeting of Monday night held at the Y. M. C. A. tea rooms in its accomplishment of a double purpose.

Dr. R. M. Hughey had been induced to give a sketch of his trip to Europe, and, always a brilliant versatile talker, his informal address with its illustrating stereopticon pictures, was pronounced one of the most thoroughly delightful entertainments ever enjoyed by the club. But in addition to the evening's pleasure the D. A. R. Chapter voted fifty dollars to the support of the Welfare League and, inspired by the presentation of the need of this organization and its possibilities, as outlined by Dr. Hughey, Vice President of the League, went on record as willing to lend to it active support.

A large number of Daughters and favored invited guests filled the tea rooms by eight o'clock, when Mrs. John Morris, Regent, opened the session with preliminary business.

Following Dr. Hughey's presentation of the Welfare League Association, was club discussion, in which prominent D. A. R. women voiced the chapter's desire to make the organization a permanent institution, and Miss Sutton, the visiting nurse, was introduced.

Upon suggestion of Miss Florence Ogle it was voted to give the $25.00 pledged earlier to the rest room project, now temporarily laid aside, and to raise an additional $25.00 to this work.

For the next hour the club women and their guests accompanied Dr. Hughey upon his travels through Europe, enjoying as much as the beautiful views and the large amount of information, the witty, characteristic digressions touching upon the unusual things and the personal experiences, humorous and otherwise, of the speaker and those who had traveled with him.

The prime object of Dr. Hughey's extended stays abroad had been study in the hospitals of London, Vienna and Berlin, but he had found opportunity for an itinerary of travel that was rarely complete.

Landing at Queenstown he took his listeners through Ireland, with its picturesque little farms, as the Dr. said, not big enough to appeal to the Fayette county farmer, literally the isle of wonderful Emerald Green, to "Bonny Scotland," with its marvelous lakes and hills, its cities of notable interest and its splendid people, on to England and to London, the city of all the world, where a population equal to all Ohio and Virginia, is put into an area the size of Ross county, and yet there are no sky scrapers, no buildings over 6 stories high.

The famous buildings, castles, cathedrals and places of interest of London, have seldom been more graphically presented, nor the trip of the continent, starting with the wonderful Rhine and passing through Germany, Italy, France, Austria, side lights thrown upon unusual customs in connection with those things which have made each country famous.

Great applause followed the talk and the Chapter voted appreciative thanks to Dr. Hughey; Mr. Hammond who assisted with the stereopticon instrument, and to the Y. M. C. A. management for the use of the pretty tea rooms.

During the social hour the hostesses, Messdames Hughey, J. Star Smith, R. S. Quinn, George Jackson, Belle Ustick, Miss Rockhold, of Bainbridge, Misses Lanum, Flora Allen, and Jackson, served refreshments, and everybody lingered, loathe to break up the enjoyable evening.

THE FIRST TROUSERS.

They Were Worn Skin Tight and Led Men to Pad Their Legs.

The advent of the silk hat led to the introduction of trousers. Knee breeches and silk stockings did not correspond with stovepipe hats. Try them now and see if you think they do. So reformers set themselves to work to devise some nether garments congruous with the new headpiece.

The result was trousers. There had, it is true, been some precursors of those inimitable garments. The Turk had worn voluminous twin bags on his legs, gathered and tied, bag fashion, at the ankles. The Cossacks, too, had found such things more convenient for horseback riding than any other garb, and "pantalons" were used in armies, especially by the French. But none of these nor any other garment that was worn prior to 1815 could be described as genuine trousers.

The first trousers worn in London were of plain, light colored cloth, and fitted very tightly; almost as tight, we may believe, as those in this country a generation ago. In the second season striped and other figured cloths were used by some, but such trousers were regarded as quite plebeian and fit for wearing only in bad weather when the streets were muddy, or as a sort of rough outing garb at the seaside. A favorite material for trousers worn by men of fashion was an elastic stockinet, which fitted literally "skin tight." Beneath such garments, to supply the deficiencies of nature, men were not averse to wearing false calves and other padding on their legs. Straps passing beneath the foot were used to keep the trouser legs held down in place.—Exchange.

DOPPLER'S LAW OF LIGHT.

It Proves That Our Solar System Is Whirling Northward.

The fact that our solar system is traveling northward at a rate of twelve miles per second has been determined by means of one of the most remarkable laws in the entire history of science, Doppler's law of light. Stand by a railway track and listen to a rapid train approaching. As it approaches the bell or whistle will increase the pitch of its sound and instantly lower the pitch of tone after it passes and recedes. When coming more waves enter the ear and less when it is departing.

Light consists of the action of waves on the retina of the eye. Our earth and sun, all bodies in the solar system, are moving to a point in the celestial vault not far from the star Vega, in the constellation Lyra, and, of course, receding from the opposite point of the sky. Waves entering the slit of the spectroscopic from the northern stars are compressed—namely, more enter per second and are dispersed toward the violet end of the spectrum, less enter from the southern stars and are dispersed toward the red.

Now, exalted mathematics, based on the laws of light, determine the extent of dispersion of waves toward the red or violet for each decrease or increase of motion of light emitting bodies, and the amount actually found by experiment confirmed the mathematical formulas—a proof that modern mind is expressing at a very exalted rate.—Edgar Lucien Larkin, in New York American.

Scaring the Conscience.

Of all her curious customs London cannot boast of a more singular one than that formerly so strictly adhered to at Holland House, one of the most historic old mansions in the British capital. The last of the Lords Holland shot himself during a fit of despondency. Everything pointed to a clear case of self murder, yet the Holland family could never be dissuaded from the notion that the old man had been murdered by some unknown assassin. Accordingly every night for years it was the custom for one of the family to go to the rear of the house punctually at 11 o'clock and fire a gun for the purpose, it is said, of "scaring the conscience" of the murderer. This curious practice is a relic of medieval days in continental Europe, and the case in point is probably the only instance where it has been noticed since the days of the crusades.

LONG DETOURS NECESSARY WHEN PAVING WORK BEGINS

CLOSING OF NORTH STREET AND JEFFERSONVILLE PIKE WITHIN NEXT FEW WEEKS WILL TURN GREAT STREAM OF TRAFFIC—WASHINGTON AVENUE PAVING WILL NOT SERIOUSLY INTERRUPT TRAFFIC—WORK WILL OPEN WITHIN THREE WEEKS.

Indications are that within the next few weeks two or three of the city's most important streets will be undergoing the paving process so that for a great many years to come there will be little need of repairs or further improvements on the streets thus improved.

The work of opening the streets will be taken up within two to four weeks if the weather permits, and a large force of men will find plenty of work until the paving is completed.

Two of the main streets to be paved will be North street from East to the old corporation line, and the other is Washington avenue.

On Washington avenue, which, like North street, is one of the most used thoroughfares in the city, it will be no difficult matter to enter the city by a short detour over other streets, with the result that traffic will not long be disturbed.

In the case of North street, however, there will be a serious interruption in traffic from that part of the county, and it will be necessary to make a lengthy detour in order to reach the heart of the city from that locality.

The work of paving the Jeffersonville pike for a mile or more north of the old corporation line, and the paving of North street from East to the old corporation line, is expected to take place almost simultaneously, with the result that when traffic is tied up by one improvement it will be tied up in the opposite direction by the other improvement, and it will be several weeks from the time the thoroughfares are closed until they can be reopened.

After the Jeffersonville pike once is closed by the State Highway department, it will be necessary for all traffic coming in over the Prairie and Jeffersonville pikes, to detour over the Bloomingburg and New Holland pike, either going westward to the mud road west of the Dean Hidy farm, thence across to the James-town pike, or east to the intersection of the Lewis pike with the Bloomingburg and New Holland road, thence into this city over the Lewis pike.

In either instance two or three miles additional travel will be necessary in order to reach the city.

The road and street will probably not be closed until sometime in April.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT CHURCH OF CHRIST

Men's night at the Church of Christ revival was well attended and the services were of special interest. The singing was especially good. The quartet by Messrs Gibson, Feller, Blackwell and Hostetter was greatly appreciated.

"Christ, the Supreme Example of What a Man Ought to Be," was the subject of the sermon by the pastor-evangelist. He said that Christ taught men by word and practice, to love their enemies; to live a life of unselfish service; to even suffer for their enemies. That men are selfish creatures, willing to serve their fellows and God only so far as their convenience, discomfort or pain. A man is willing to get up in the morning and start the fire if he isn't too cold. He will go to church or help others if it doesn't interfere with his own plans, pleasure or profit.

As example of what Christ could make out of crude, raw material the speaker took Peter, James, Stephen and Paul, contrasting their character before Christ came into their lives with what they were afterward. All men, he declared, could be like that if they would.

Tonight the sermon will be on "Our Names and Records Written in Heaven, or God's Dictagraph." Evangelist O. G. Blackwell will give a 10-minute chalk-talk. There will be special music. At the close of the meeting the ordinance of baptism will be administered.

Wednesday night will be Boys' Night. The whole service will be planned to fit the boys. Every boy will be welcome, including father, mother, sister and brother.

VEGETABLE SEED FROM COPENHAGEN

The Barnett Grocery window is displaying a shipment of vegetable seed from a seedman, C. P. Standholm, in Copenhagen, Denmark, consigned to A. T. Williams, gardener of this city.

The seed are of the leading vegetables and it required them more than one month to come from Copenhagen to this country, and to do so it was necessary that the vessel bearing the seed pass the English blockade fleet, running the risk of German mines and other kindred dangers in the war zone.

Last year a similar shipment was received by Williams, and the vegetables grown from the seed proved of exceptionally good variety, one head of cauliflower measuring 26 inches in circumference.

THE BOY FARMER

Or a Member of the Corn Club

By ASA PATRICK

Copyright, 1915, by American Press Association.

SYNOPSIS.

Sam Powell, inspired by a government agent, plans to make a scientific farmer of himself and to compete for prizes awarded to the Boys' Corn Club.

While blowing out stumps Sam saves Joe Watson's life. Sam plans his contest acre of corn and other crops and the stocking of his farm with cattle.

Sam works hard cleaning up and fertilizing the worn-out farm. Miles Fagan ridicules scientific farming, but lets his boy join the corn club.

He prunes and sprays the old trees of the orchard, improving them greatly, and his successful farming astonishes Miles Fagan and other slow going neighbors.

Sam's careful study of scientific agriculture and his up to date methods of seed selection are rewarded by splendid crops.

Sam explains to Bill Googe how certain birds destroy injurious insects that prey upon farm products. Sam raises 125 bushels of corn on his contest acre at a cost of 11 cents per bushel.

At the meeting of the Boys' Corn Club Sam wins first prize, $100 for the best acre of corn in the state at the least cost.

CHAPTER VII.

SAM met Mr. Burns in town one day in September. The agent's district embraced several counties, and he had been absent for some time. The two had not seen each other for several weeks.

"Hello, Sam!" accosted the agent. "How's the corn?"

"That corn is all right, Mr. Burns," replied Sam, "and I'd like you to come out one day this week to see it gathered and measured."

"All right, I'll be out Friday and bring along the committee that's going to report on the contest acres in this county. Will it take long to gather the corn?"

"Yes, it's going to take quite a bit of time, for unless I'm mighty badly mistaken there's sure some corn on that patch."

"Well, you've tried farming for a year. What do you think of it as a business?"

"I think it's the finest business there is. I like it better than anything else I can think of, and I'm going to stick to it and learn it."

Mr. Burns smiled. "I see," he said, "that you don't think you know all about the business. Did you read those books that I told you about?"

"No, sir," said Sam, replying to the agent's first remark. "I really don't know much about farming. I need more experience. Most of what I know I've learned from reading. As for those books, I've not only read them, but I've studied them too. I've bought several more since then, and I'm going to keep on buying till I get all the best ones in my line. I don't believe it pays to economize on books, do you?"

"No, it doesn't," said Mr. Burns. "If you know the science of farming it is easy enough to learn the rest. But you never can farm intelligently without learning the science of it. What other books did you buy?"

"Well, I bought Bailey's 'Manual of Gardening' for mother, but I'm studying it myself. There's a whole lot to learn about gardening, and every farm ought to have a garden. Besides that, I bought Fletcher's 'Soils How to Handle and Improve Them' and Dugan's 'Diseases of Cultivated Plants and Weeds, Insects and Insecticides.'"

"They're just the books you needed," said Mr. Burns. "My, if you keep on reading and studying this way it won't take you any time to finish the course in the agricultural college when you go down there."

Friday morning early Bill Googe came over with his wagon and team, and he and Sam started in to gather the contest acre. The day before Sam had gone over the patch and gathered the ears selected for seed and piled them at the edge of the patch. Before 8 o'clock they had one big load gathered and were just driving out to unload it in a bin that Sam had prepared when Mr. Burns and the judging committee arrived.

The men stood around, examined the ears and watched them unload, then went back to the patch and helped to gather the next load, which required but a very little time for all of them. After that Sam brought out some melons and cantaloupes, and the men feasted in the shade of a tree while he and Bill Googe gathered the remainder of the corn.

By 11 o'clock the last of the corn had been gathered and unloaded. Mr. Burns and the committee then measured the pile of seed corn and calculated the contents of the bin.

"One hundred and thirty-nine bushels," announced Mr. Burns. "Now for the cost."

Every item of expense and labor connected with the acre was put down. All this was added up and the result divided by 139.

"One hundred and thirty-nine bushels; cost per bushel, 11 cents," announced the agent again. "Well, Sam, you're sure going to win some of those prizes."

a pleasant surprise for the boys, so he invited his neighbor, Bob Fagan, and those three from town to visit him on Saturday. Sam's surprise was some large watermelons, the last of the season, that he had covered up with grass and kept fresh and sound. The melon crop had been gone for a long time, and this would be a treat worth giving on what would probably be their last visit this year. Even Bob Fagan would be as much surprised as any, for they never grew melons on the Fagan farm and knew nothing about keeping them until cold weather.

The boys came, and the day proved to be suitable for the occasion. It was a hot, sultry day and seemed to belong more to midsummer than to autumn.

First the melons were carried to the creek near the swimming hole and dumped in a clear pool to float round and round and cool. Then the boys were off on a hunt for wild grapes and pecans. They found both. Winter grapes and fox grapes they found hanging in thick, purple clusters from vines that ran along branches and from tree to tree. To get them the boys generally had to do a lot of climbing, but they liked this, though they had to be careful about getting too far out on weak limbs.

The pecans' hulls were popping open and dropping their fruit to the ground, so they had little to do except to pick them up or chuck the trees to bring more down. The only competitors they had were the squirrels and crows. The crows merely feasted, but the squirrels were busy in every tree, gathering their winter supply and storing them away in their homes in the tree hollows.

Autumn is a time of beautiful colors, and the nature lover, like Sam Powell, prizes it almost as much as spring. Sam gave his comrades their first lesson in woodcraft—how to see things. He pointed out to them the flashing colors of red and brown and green and gold. For the first time they really saw the sumacs flaming on the hill or the red birds and jay birds making red and blue streaks as they flew swiftly through the woods. He showed them how to sit very still and see the wild things that would come out and begin their work and play all around.

The hours passed swiftly, and before the boys realized it noon was long past. Being hungry and tired, they turned back toward the creek and the pool where the melons were floating in the sparkling water. In a short time they were there, and, carrying melons to a grassy place in the shade of some trees, they cut them in halves and exposed the juicy red hearts. In a jiffy each boy had a big dripping slice and was eating it between grunts of satisfaction.

They lay in the shade and talked a long time after they had disposed of the watermelons. One or two slept, and Sam and the others amused themselves by throwing rocks at the trunk of a tree. Suddenly, some one said: "Let's go swimming. I'm going to be first in!" Then the race began. Every boy was up in a second, peeling off his clothes faster than he had ever done before in his life.

Three were so close together that it was hard to tell which was first. They gave a whoop and, running to the bank, sprang into the air. They came down head first, for the water was deep, and there was no danger of striking anything. Chug, chug, chug, they went, one after the other. The water was as warm as on an August day, and the boys had fine sport. They dived after pebbles, had contests of swimming under water, floating, treading or swimming on their backs.

Somehow that afternoon seemed too short to the boys. They had been swimming a long time when Joe Watson spoke up suddenly:

"My, but look how low the sun's getting! We've got to be hiking, boys!" "Well," said Fred Martin as they were dressing on the grassy bank, "we've had our last melon for this year."

"And our last swim, too," added Andrew White.

"Yes, that's so," said Bob Fagan, "but they were both daisies for last ones."

"No need to grieve, boys," Sam explained. "You forget that we'll soon have snow and Christmas."

"That's the truth," they exclaimed in chorus. "They'll be here before we know it."

This new subject afforded conversation for the boys till they came to the place of parting.

Sam himself as he walked slowly homeward kept thinking of Christmas. The Christmas feeling was getting in his blood, and that's a delightful feeling to have.

The young farmer on arriving home immediately set about doing the evening chores. He felt vigorous and fresh and happy. Nothing seemed lacking. Nevertheless when he had finished the chores and gone indoors he found a letter that added to his feelings of pleasure. The letter was from Mr. Burns, the agricultural agent, requesting him to be present the following Saturday at a meeting of the Boys' Corn Club, when the prizes for the state and county would be awarded.

The following Saturday morning Sam Powell was up early and away to town to be present at the meeting of the corn club. He didn't feel sure that he would win a prize. He thought that he might win one of the smaller county prizes, but, as for the first ones offered for the county and the state, of course he didn't have any chance to win.

If he could just win the gold watch offered by the governor or the trip to Washington or the $25 in gold or the Jersey cow he'd be satisfied. But, anyway, he said to himself, if he didn't win a single prize this year he would next.

Railroads Entitled to Increase.

[Editorial Tiffin Tribune, Jan. 30, 1915.]

The railroads of Ohio are going to ask the general assembly to give them an increase of one half of a cent per mile for carrying passengers—2½ cents per mile—and a careful study of the situation of the railroads cannot fail to convince any reasonable person of the common fairness of the proposition. Greatly increased expenses, in operation, rolling stock and in all the commodities that are used in operating and equipping railroads is given as a reason for the request by the railroad companies. They give figures to prove their contention on these points and these figures undoubtedly show that they have a good case. The high cost of living has had its accompaniment for the railroads in the high cost of maintenance and operation and at the same time the incomes of the roads have slumped as business has slumped throughout the country and the railroads, in order to meet increased expenses, like any business concern or any individual, must have increased incomes.

The Ohio legislature would, we believe, be doing a mere act of justice, in granting the increase. The railroads of America as a whole give splendid service and it is inconceivable that any one should object to their being allowed a reasonable profit in their business and it seems this may have not been receiving, in the last few years. The prosperity of the railroads bears a strong relationship to the prosperity of the country. When they prosper they contribute greatly to the prosperity of the country.

Railroads' Losses.

"The reduced earnings on passenger traffic were caused largely by reductions which the carriers were compelled to make in their passenger fares in Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, and in other states, under local legislative action. The returns made by ten of the roads, representing only a portion of the mileage in what is known as central freight association territory, show that during the period from 1906 to 1913, inclusive, there was an estimated loss of nearly $18,000,000 in revenues due to state legislation, under which those carriers were compelled to make substantial reductions in their local passenger fares with accompanying reductions in their interstate passenger fares."—Interstate Commerce Commission Report.

SCOTLAND'S PALLADIUM.

A Famous Piece of Artillery Is Ancient Mons Meg.

In the most honorable location in the Argyle battery of Edinburgh castle is a huge piece of ancient artillery which is known as Mons Meg. This old fashioned piece of ordnance is held in the highest esteem by the Scottish people; in fact, it holds a position in their hearts similar to our feelings toward our own Liberty bell.

Mons Meg was made at Mons, Belgium, about the year 1503, by order of James IV., and was named Meg in honor of his wife, Margaret Tudor, the daughter of Henry VII. Its great bulk and weight rendered it almost worthless in those days of hand to hand conflicts. However, it was used on special occasions to help celebrate national events. In the reports of the financial transactions of the times may be found charges for "grease for Meg's mouth" (this was used to increase the loudness of the report), ribbons to deck her carriage and pipes to be played before her when accompanying the Scottish army on an expedition. After the union in 1707 the people feared that the "odious surrender of national independence" would be consummated by the removal of Mons Meg to England. In 1757 the piece was removed to Woolwich, but it was restored to Scotland in 1828, "to quiet the people."

Although only a mere mass of rusty iron, it is revered by the people today and is always decorated with thistle and other flowers on anniversary days. In processions it has always had the place of honor, but recently it was decided that it was dangerous to submit it to the shock of cartage, and now it looks down from its resting place over the great Scot city.—Chicago Herald.

ROOTS OUT CORNS BY PENETRATION

Dr. Hunt Finds the Quick, Clean, Painless, Effective Way. ONLY 10c.

Cutting a corn never cured it. Caustic liquids only invite blood poisoning, and stimulate further corn growth. Corn pads are bulky and squeeze the toes. Salves are greasy. But the one way that does cure corns of all kinds and sizes is the penetration way, discovered by Dr. Hunt, of Sidney, Ohio, a medical man who has spent a lifetime in the development of this new principle of curing corns by penetration.

Dr. Hunt's New Corn Cure comes in the form of clean, handy plaster. Six plasters in a box. Trim plaster size of corn and apply. Instantly the pain is eased. All you feel is the soothing effect. The plaster does not bulk up like clumsy pads.

Now see what happens: In two days the corn has become so thoroughly penetrated that it can be easily and quite painlessly lifted out, root, branch and all.

Remember, this principle is new. It is different from anything else offered as a permanent cure for stubborn corns. And a box full costs only ten cents. Money back if not delighted. Sold by druggists and shoe dealers everywhere. Or, send ten cents in stamps to American Chemical Company, Sidney, Ohio.

SHELLS SILENCE TURKISH FORTS

Bombardment of Batteries in Dardanelles Continues.

ALLIED WARSHIPS ALSO HIT

Russian Fleet Hammers Three Ports on the Black Sea, Destroying All Structures and Plants For the Shipment of Coal—British Collier Torpedoed Off English Coast—German Submarine Crew Held.

London, March 9.—The Turkish battery at Mount Dardanus and the forts of Rumili Madjidieh Tabiah and Hamidieh-I-Tabia in the Dardanelles have been silenced by shells from the allied fleet, it is officially announced.

The British battleship Queen Elizabeth, the announcement also said, was hit by shots from the Turkish forts and slightly damaged.

On behalf of the Russian naval general staff, the official press bureau made the following statement: "Our fleet bombarded Zunguldiak, Kozlon and Killimli (ports on the Black sea), destroying all structures and plants for the shipment of coal. The bombardment was followed by a terrific explosion and fire. Four batteries were silenced and eight steamers destroyed. Our casualties were three men wounded."

The following official statement was given out in Constantinople: "The British ships Majestic and Irresistible have reinforced the enemy fleet. The fire of our batteries put a French armored cruiser out of action and damaged a British armored cruiser. Owing to our bombardment the hostile ships retreated and ceased their fire. Our batteries suffered no damage."

The admiralty announces that the British collier Bengrave was sunk Sunday, undoubtedly by a torpedo, off Ilfracombe, which lies ten miles northwest of Barnstaple, County Devon, England.

The admiralty announces that it is not justified in extending honors to the captured crews of German submarine boats, owing to their methods, and that it is intended to segregate them under special restrictions, pending their possible conviction of murder at the conclusion of peace. The admiralty states that this ruling applied to the twenty-nine officers and men of the German submarine U-5, which was sunk recently off Dover.

ANNOUNCED BY BRITISH THAW JURY IS SECURED

Washington, March 9.—The details of a temporary arrangement made in London between the British government and representatives of American cotton shippers whereby cotton may be shipped to neutral countries under certain conditions were communicated to the state department by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador. Great Britain declares, however, that cotton can no longer proceed to Germany and Austria.

The arrangement made was sought by the cotton shippers with a view to relieving those who had entered into contracts for delivery and shipment of cotton prior to March 2, the day following the Anglo-French announcement relative to the cutting off of all trade with Germany. It is regarded as satisfactory in that it insures American cotton interests that they will suffer no loss on assuming contract for deliveries to neutral countries, but it is merely an ad interim agreement pending the issuance of the British orders in council which are to prescribe the details of the allies' "program for cutting off all trade with Germany."

Columbus, March 9.—Bernard Doran, a discharged deputy liquor inspector, filed with the governor charges against members of the state liquor license commission. The allegations are scheduled to bring about a twofold investigation one of the license commission and the other of the state civil service commission. Doran alleges the license commissioners prevented him from appearing as the prosecuting witness in a number of Cleveland resort cases in which resort keepers were to be tried. In reply to charges that alterations had been made in Doran's civil service noncompetitive examination papers, it was alleged these were by the civil service commission. Doran failed in a noncompetitive examination. Civil Service Commissioner Bryson has declared the liquor commission "put one over on us" in furnishing a secret report on Doran's efficiency.

Anvil Date Back of History.

The anvil was known in the earliest times, being spoken of in the Bible, the prophet Isaiah saying (chapter 47, verse 7), "So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smootheneth with the hammer, him that smiteth the anvil." It is not known who first used it, but of course the anvil of antiquity was unlike that of today as perfected by modern workmanship. The anvil still used in the orient, however, is a boot shaped piece of metal inserted in a section of oak or walnut log. Larger or smaller it is used by tinsmiths, shoemakers, silversmiths and blacksmiths. The anvils used in this country are commonly made of cast iron faced with steel and are of parallelopiped form, with a steel cone or beak at one end and a "handy hole" for inserting chisel or other tools at the other end.—Boston Globe.

WILL TAYLOR MADE EXPERTS "SIT UP"

NEW YORK PRESS WHOSE HEADLINES CONCERNING RECENT CHAMPIONSHIP EVENT PRO- NOUNCE LOCAL BOY "SEN- SATION OF THE MEET." SAYS PLATT ADAMS, FORMER CHAMPION, WAS CONSOLED BY BEING "BEATEN BY A BETTER MAN," AND THAT CRITICS BELIEVE TAYLOR BETTER THAN RAY EWRY AT HIS BEST.

The New York Press' issue of March 5, in recounting Thursday's championship meet of the Amateur Athletic Union of North America, leads its story with bold headlines proclaiming Will Taylor, local boy, the "sensation of the meet," and thereafter devotes considerable space to this celebrity, who captured two championship medals from the world famed athlete Platt Adams. Taylor represented the Illinois Athletic Club.

The Press sport scribe tells of Taylor's spectacular achievements as follows:

"It was left for a representative of the Illinois A. C. to provide the sensation of the meet. William H. Taylor was the athlete who produced the features in the standing high jump and the standing broad jump. Not only did he beat Platt Adams in both specialties but he created new meet records that came very near displacing the national indoor standards. It was a bitter pill for Adams, Olympic, National and other varieties of champions, and for five years supreme in the standing jumps, to be displaced by a comparative unknown, whose coming was unheralded.

"Taylor made the experts sit up and take notice in the high jump. He leaped 5 feet 4 inches, adding two inches to the mark held jointly by Adams and Ray Ewry. Adams had to be content with third place, Eddie Emes taking second prize. There were some who asserted that Taylor's style was not legal. It did look a little as if he dived over the bar, and he invariably landed on his hands, but Adams and Leo Goehring said that he jumped clearly.

"In the broad jump Taylor leaped 14 feet 2 inches, half an inch better than the meet record set by Ray Ewry nine years ago. In that event Adams was far outjumped, as his best effort measured 10 feet 7 1/2 inches. Taylor impressed critics as having the inherent ability of doing even better than Ewry at his best. Adams gained consolation from the fact that he was beaten by a better man."

Other New York papers, as well as the leading sport journals all over the country tell practically the same story.

RUNAWAY JUNE HAS EXCITING LIFE ON ISLAND

Word comes from Bermuda, by wireless, that Old Ocean has been badly misbehaving right up to the time when the "Runaway June" company embarked, horse, foot and dragons, or rather principals, accessory actors and mechanical force, on the Quebec liner Bermuda, which the Reliance Company chartered to take the Runaways to beautiful Bermuda, where the remaining scenes of the George Randolph Chester serial are being staged. But when the Juners dared to rest upon his heaving bosom grim Father Neptune and immediately subsided into an imperturbable equanimity. And so he continued until the merry party disembarked at Hamilton, which so enraged the hoary ruler of the deep that he raised aloft his barbed fork and invoked the aid of Jupiter Pluvius, who straightway stirred up the seething waters in a howling hurricane. And so it has continued ever since. No boat has been able to leave Hamilton since the Bermuda returned the next day after landing the actors.

It was indeed a busy voyage for the cranks of three moving picture cameras were turning all the while, and two still photographers were equally busy with their kodaks. The entire tenth episode of two reels was taken on the boat and there was no little excitement on the part of the officers and crew who had their first experience as participants in a famous photoplay. The remaining episodes are now being taken in the beautiful environments of nature's fairland, where thrilling pirate plots, shipwrecks and wonderful submarine scenes will be included in the action of the drama. It is easy to understand now why so few moving pictures are laid in these superb surroundings, as the dangers and uncertainty of the sea makes it a perilous and sometimes a very costly undertaking.

See the great play at the Colonial tomorrow night.

ANOTHER BILL MAY BE OFFERED

By Associated Press. Columbus, March 9.—Friends of the Garver anti-conservancy bill, on which the Senate will take final action at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, today were preparing to introduce a similar measure to it if that is defeated by the Senate.

AN EASY GOING SENTINEL.

Such a Little Thing as the Password Didn't Bother Him.

An interesting picture of the confusion that attended the anti-Austrian demonstrations in Milan in 1848 is given in "Memories of Youth," by Signor Giovanni Visconti Venosta.

Very early in the morning, says the author, after several hours of heavy sleep in a hammock in an anteroom of Garner college I descended into the street and ran into some people who, with tricolored shawls across their shoulders, were giving orders in the name of the committee of defense. They were trying to discipline the revolution. Falling into their hands, I was stationed as a sentinel at a useless barricade that shut off Via Durini from the Verziere. The commander, having inspected my pistols and perhaps having found them not murderous enough, placed in my hands a fencing foil. Then he gave me the countersign, "Papa Pio."

A little while afterward another chief came along, who reinforced the post and gave me as a companion a good old man who was armed with an antique lance. I told him the countersign, and we soon became friends.

A patrol appeared. "Halt!" cried the old man. "The countersign?" "Concordia, coraggio," replied the captain of the patrol.

"Truly," replied my companion, "the countersign is something else. However, we are all Italians, so pass on."

ENGLISH AND AMERICAN.

Differing Forms of Speech in Great Britain and This Country

The common objects and phenomena of nature are often differently named in English and American. Such Americanisms as creek and run for small streams are practically unknown in England, and the English moor is a stranger in the United States. The Englishman is naturally but little familiar with bayou, gulch, gully, canyon, butte, divide and bluff. He knows the meaning of sound (Long Island sound), but always uses channel in place of it.

In the same way the American knows the meaning of English bog, but almost always uses swamp or marsh (often elided to ma'sh). Football is an Americanism; so is cold snap; so also are prairie, backwoods, flats and neck (in the sense of peninsula). The Englishman seldom if ever describes a severe storm as a hurricane, a cyclone, tornado or blizzard. He does not say that the temperature is 20 degrees or that the thermometer or the mercury is at 20 degrees, but that there are three degrees of frost. He calls ice water iced water.—Pittsburgh Press.

WE GIVE REBATE STAMPS

country came from Paris. All that has been changed since the advent of "The Merry Widow" some years ago. Viennese operetta has now become synonymous with excellence. Henry W. Savage introduced the genuine in "The Merry Widow" and followed it up last season with another sensational hit, "Sari," which comes to the Hartman Theater, Columbus, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 15-16-17th, with matinee Wednesday.

"Sari" ran a full season in New York last year and Columbus is one of the first cities to see the operetta on the road. It is chock full of melody and mirth; the plot is clear and consistent, telling a story that bubbles over with comedy, tinged now and then with drama that touches the heart. The music, by Emmerich Kalman, is full of Hungarian sparkle, verve, and joyousness. The melodies of the many song hits are easily whistled, played and sung. The operetta has a dance sensation in the delicious Hungarian are thrown on the screen.

The United Photo Player Company is to present at the Hartman Theatre Columbus, from Friday, March 19th, to Thursday, March 25th, Dr. George A. Dorsey's Photographic Wonders. These pictures, taken by Dr. Dorsey of the University of Chicago is well known as a traveler and on his travels has taken pictures which reveal to us not only the sights and scenes of which we often read but many new, unexplored countries. They are unquestionably the greatest pictures of travelogue, local romances of these various countries; also showing in detail hundreds of scenes that have never been witnessed by the camera eye heretofore. A lecturer explains the various points of interest as they are thrown on the screen.
